Awards Banquet

First speaker on the program was Ed. C. Lowrey, editor of The Times-Mirror who brought greetings in behalf of the publishers, Mrs. Neil G. Walker, Mrs. Jane Kopf and Mrs. Ann Davis. He congratulated the winner, and praised the Jaycees for excellent promotion of the project. The Jaycees Auxiliary came in for a share of praise, as well.

Bob Geiger, president of the Jaycees, thanked all for cooperation received, mentioned the good fellowship that prevailed and praised the Derby as a project to weld closer family ties. He concluded by expressing the hope that he would see the same assembly another year.

The toastmaster reminded that the Derby had been sponsored jointly by The Times-Mirror, Dan's Chevrolet, and the Jaycees. He brought regrets from Mr. Dodge, of the Chevrolet agency and introduced the judges of the races. Mr. Walton, Chief of Police M. Ewan and Mr. Lowrey.

Appreciation was expressed by Chairman Cook for cooperation received from the five associates on the committee, the Jaycees Auxiliary members, Gorton's Flower Shop, Chief Ewan and the Police Department, Leon Webster and the Street Department, Jim Reier and the Park Department, the Department of Highways for making snow fence available, the Keystone Construction Company for moving the bleachers, and a special word to Hammond Iron Works for the starting ramps which were described as comparing favorably with the ones that are used each year for the National Derby at Akron.

Mr. Schneek read excerpts from a letter from Congressman Leon H. Gavin, who was to have been an honorary judge, as well as a speaker at the dinner. Pressing business incident to the closing days of the Congressional session prevented the representative from making the trip. From the copy of the speech Mr. Gavin intended to deliver the toastmaster read these portions: "A wise man once said that the Youth of a Nation are the trustees of posterity. As I visualize these youngsters I have no fears as to how that trust will be handled. The problem of our youth is a fundamental one which cannot be solved merely by the passage of a few state laws, no matter how sound. The solution must go to the root of the problem which lies in the basic relations between the child and his parents, his church, his school and the community in which he lives. Naturally, nothing can replace the role of the home in molding and shaping the developing personality of a growing child. Parents know this only too well and know that this is a continuing job. But the community where the family lives must cheerfully and willingly accept its responsibility in participating and aiding each individual family in the process of raising the trustees of our posterity. The tremendous job you are doing in encouraging and promoting the Soap Box Derby is an important contribution to the development of the young people of our country. I am proud and happy to represent Warren in the Congress of the United States; a community of fine citizens to be congratulated for their intense interest in and fine work among our boys and girls who will be our leaders of tomorrow."

Chairman Cook again took over for the distribution of the awards, calling the winner George Newman, who was presented first the large and magnificent United Refining and Emblem Oil Companies trophy, and the T. H. Keating Plaque. He also received a wrist watch, and a flag donated by Congressman Gavin which has flown over the National Capitol. He and his parents will also be guests for dinner at the Blue & White Restaurant. The runner-up, Jack Rice, received a bicycle; third place winner was given a radio; fourth place watches. These were given to winners in both the Class A and Class B competition. Dan Pace and Dennis Brocklehurst, Roy Matve and Dick Crockett received watches as fourth place winners. Fifth place prizes went to Ronnie Billet and Dave Reynolds.

Jimmy Ruhlman was rewarded with a camera set for the racer with the best upholstery; Bob Webster's car was judged the best designed and he received a watch. Jackie Rice's car was judged the best constructed.

Chairman Cook expressed again his appreciation for the untiring efforts of the general committee in charge, as well as all who had any part in making "Derby Day" successful beyond the anticipations of those who helped in developing the various details involved. Concluding he said: I hope the Derby will get better as it goes along. The Jaycees enjoyed working with The Times-Mirror, and Dan's Chevrolet. We had 76 boys registered, which was many more than we had hoped for when we started."

day afternoon in perfect Soap Box Derby weather as Jaycees coordinated heats expertly with telephone communication from the judges stand at the finish line along Madison Avenue to the starting ramps at the intersection of Lincoln and Central Avenues.

High School coach Joe Massa waving to the green starting flag signaled the boys on their way from the ramp and then closed the heat with a flourish of the black and white checkered victory symbol.

The Derby began from Beaty Junior High School at noon with a procession of the boys pushing their entries from Conewango Avenue to Pennsylvania Avenue and then up to the raceway. The Dungee Band of Warren High School, coached by Harry Summers, led the parade in all its blue-jeaned, white-bloused, musical splendor.

The boys themselves shoved their colorful entries along in a double column, wearing blue helmets and white T-shirts bearing the red and blue soap box derby emblem and emblazoned with "Warren Jaycees."

Bleachers along the finish line on either side of the street held approximately 800 spectators and the remainder lined the snow fence which bordered the race route and continued down to Pennsylvania Avenue.

Spectators brought along camp chairs, sat on porches, porch roofs

COLLIE DOG HELPS TO PROVIDE THRILL

Perhaps the biggest thrill of the afternoon, short of the finals, came during the pace race as last year's champions from Bradford and Jamestown took the first run down the course. As they streaked toward the finish line at the bottom of the hill, a large collie wandered out onto the course from nowhere and drifted into the west lane. The Bradford driver, intent on his course, did not see the animal and the dog apparently did not see the racer. Only a last minute leap by the dog averted a mishap as the crowd cheered in relief.

and mounted step ladders to get a better view of the proceedings. Two foresighted horsemen rode their four-footed bleachers right up along side the fence.

Bales of hay had been placed along Central Avenue about 100 yards before the finish line in case any soap box racer failed to stop. However, none did thanks to rigid inspection of safety precautions by Jaycees prior to the race.

Judges on the flatbed truck reviewing stand were Ed C. Lowrey, Police Chief Mike Ewan and YMCA secretary Dan Walton. The latter opened the races with an invocation. LeRoy Schneek announced the participants of the various heats and the victors.

Helping out the judges in the calling of close ones was photographer John Kofod who was on hand with a 60-second Poloroid land camera. He was called on often as neck and neck finishes highlighted the Class A competition, one being so close that a rematch had to be run between the two racers and even the camera's eye could not catch any difference as they nosed over the finish line at an identical instant.

Trucks at the bottom of the course carried the winners of various heats back to the crest of the hill for the elimination runs.

Derby Day was divided into two separate matches, with 16 Class B entrants competing in the races for eleven and twelve year olds. The other 49 entries raced in the Class A competition for boys from 13 to 15 years, inclusive. Rice and Newman represented the B and A group respectively.

Penelec Safety Award Dinner Marks 500,000 Accident-Free Hours Here

Left to Right—E. F. McCollough, Division Stores Supervisor—Oil City (former Chairman of Northern Division Safety Council); W. C. Sowers, Division Director of Personnel and Safety—Oil City; E. J. Miller, System Safety Engineer—Johnstown; H. A. Schwartz, Division Safety Inspector—Titusville (toastmaster); R. F. McClement, Superintendent of Warren Power Station.

The Warren Power Plant of the Pennsylvania Electric Company held a Safety Award dinner at the FWCA Activities Building July 19 in recognition of a record completed three months ago of 500,000 hours, or 42 months, without any employee having lost time from work due to accident.

After the invocation by John Bowser, the dinner and program followed with H. A. Schwartz of Titusville, Division Safety Inspector, acting as toastmaster.

The following were present: Johnstown—E. J. Miller, system safety engineer.

Shawville—C. W. Smith, superintendent power station.

Oil City—E. F. McCollough, division stores supervisor, F. L. Garmon, chairman of Northern Division Safety Council, C. M. Howard, division operating superintendent; W. C. Sowers, division personnel and safety director; C. L. Hockman, division meter superintendent; J. Leedom, assistant to division manager.

Bradford—T. S. Hawley, district manager; T. W. Shay, general line foreman.

Titusville—J. M. Grove, sub district manager. Warren—C. L. McMullen, district manager; L. Shaffer, general line foreman; E. G. Garber, office manager; E. W. Nine, system operator; Ed C. Lowrey, editor Times-Tribune and Everett A. Stokes, official photographer.

C. W. Smith, former Superintendent of Warren Power Plant, stated that he was glad to be at the dinner and to be able to renew old acquaintances. It was a great pleasure to work with the men at Warren during the time that he was here. He was proud to have had a part in the honor to be given to the Warren Station and said that in the future he hopes to see Warren Station continue in its safety program. To go 500,000 manhours without a lost time accident is indeed an accomplishment of which to be proud and he urged the men to strive for the 1,000,000 manhour mark.

H. A. Schwartz, Division Safety Inspector, stated that it took a great effort on the part of all and to attain this record was difficult and he was sure that the company certainly appreciated the part of each one.

E. J. Miller, System Safety Engineer, said that collectively speaking the safety record established at the Warren Station was a great accomplishment and could not be easily duplicated because of the great amount of time required and the number of employees involved.

Mr. Miller expressed his thanks to the Northern Division for making the dinner possible and he also thanked H. A. Schwartz, Safety Inspector, and C. W. Smith, former superintendent of Warren Station, for their part in the accomplishment.

E. J. Miller then presented the G. P. U. plaque for working 500,000 manhours without a lost time

Earl J. Miller, System Safety Engineer, presents G. P. U. plaque to R. F. McClement, Supt. of Warren Power Station, for employees of station working 500,000 manhours without a lost time accident during the past 42 months — from October 1952 to April 1956. — Pictures by Stokes accident during the past forty-two months to the employees of Warren Station R. F. McClement, Superintendent of Warren Station, spoke briefly in accepting it for the employees.

R. F. McClement read letters received from W. C. Sontum, Vice President of the Technical Department; W. H. Lambell, Superintendent of the Production Department; and R. A. Pickup, Northern Division Manager, in which they congratulated the employees of Warren Station upon being awarded the G. P. U. plaque and expressed their regrets at not being able to attend.

R. F. McClement expressed his thanks to the Northern Division Safety Council for their part in helping to work out safety problems and in helping to reduce accident hazards. He went on to say "that all employees, regardless of position or title, should be able to go home at the end of a day's work to their family and be able to enjoy their respective hobbies and duties, etc. as only those can who are physically fit. This will only be possible through the concerted effort of all in working safely. Now that we have passed the 500,000 manhour mark, we should strive to reach the 1,000,000 man hour mark without a lost time accident."

Guests and employees were then presented with automatic pencils inscribed "Warren Station—500,000 Accident Free Hours". Each employee was individually congratulated as he received his pencil.

In closing H. A. Schwartz, Safety Inspector, stated that it was necessary for all to understand and to be able to interpret orders in order to accomplish the proper results. As an illustration he said that "we must keep the Beetle Baileys out of our work. By doing this it will aid in our understanding and also help us to work safely and make it possible to reach the 1,000,000 manhour mark without a lost time accident. It will be necessary to have the cooperation of all employees to do this."

YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville—The official board of the Methodist church will meet at the church at 8:00 this evening.

Lon's Dinner Bell Restaurant will be closed this week while the proprietor, Lonnie Halfast, and his family enjoy a well-earned vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Boland have had as guests their son, Alvin May, with his wife and daughter, Connie, from Tujunga, Calif. The Mays spent one week with their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Union City, at their Findley Lake cottage; and are at Chautauqua Lake this week at the cottage of her brother, Woodrow Wilson of Lakewood.

Also a guest at the Boland home this week is her cousin, Mrs. Clinton Rhodes Pasadena, Calif., who will go on to Virginia to visit a sister before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young have had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flinchbaugh, Oil City.

The many friends of Larry Moutier, who has been convalescing at his home after a heart attack suffered a couple of months ago, will be happy to know he is able to walk about again and call upon neighbors.

Carl Rosendale was host to members of his class from the Lutheran church for dinner and swimming at his cottage at Chautauqua Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Curvin McDowell are enjoying a three-week vacation trip to New Orleans and New Mexico.

Hammond Iron Issues Interesting Catalog

A completely new Catalog and Data Book on the patented "Tubeseal" System for floating-roof storage tanks has just been published by Hammond Iron Works. The company designs, fabricates, and erects these and other types of storage tanks for use in the chemical, petroleum, and petrochemical industries.

The new catalog describes the design and construction of the improved Hammond Tubeseal—the only floating-roof seal that completely eliminates every space between seal and product. This is the area in conventional floating-roof tanks where air-vapor mixtures form. With the Tubeseal, loss or ignition of product is virtually impossible.

The Tubeseal, which is completely noncorroding, is fully illustrated in drawings and photographs. In addition, the new catalog contains a section giving detailed answers to all questions on the design, construction, materials, applications, operation, and advantages of the Hammond Tubeseal.

Copies of Tubeseal Catalog TS-56 may be obtained by writing any of Hammond Iron Works plants, which are located at Warren, Pa., Bristol, Pa., Birmingham, Ala., Provo, Utah, and Casper, Wyoming, or from their general sales office at 630 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y.

GARLAND

Garland—About 35 Scouts and members of their families enjoyed the outing held at Mead Park in Cory last week. A delicious turkey dinner was the main event, with chilled watermelon as a special treat. The children made use of the many recreational facilities of the park and the parents enjoyed a social time together.

Several folks enjoyed the PTA card party, with prizes going to Mrs. Orcutt Ward and Mrs. Aaron Scranton. Lunch was served to conclude the event.

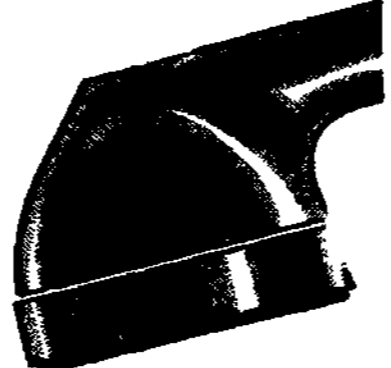

The Fancy Cookers opened their meeting with songs and games. The project for the evening was cake, which the girls enjoyed baking, and eating with chocolate milk. Next meeting will be at 7:00 p. m. July 24 in the community building.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Holmes have included Rev. and Mrs. David Shannon, F'moise, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holmes and son, Michael, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. David Delsch and daughter, Darlene, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris and family, Pittsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Bailey have had as recent callers Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wood, Hydetown; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gates, Cory.

Virginia Taber, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Taber, was a guest for several days at the home of Barbara Wilson at Irvine.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lanning and daughters, Donna, Judy and Debbie, have been spending several days in Lansing, Mich., with Mr. and Mrs. Gail Niver and family.

BUY and HOLD U. S. BONDS

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. Williams

WHAT MORE COULD A FELDER JUST THINK OF US, NOBODY TO BOTHER US, GETTING THE BEST THERE IS IN LIFE—NOT A THING TO THINK ABOUT TILL TOMORROW!

YOU HAD SOMETHING TO SAY LAST NIGHT? I GOTTA CUT THE LAWN, CARRY OUT THE RUBBISH, WASH THE DOGS AND TAKE SOME STUFF AWAY OVER TO GRAND-MA'S. I'LL NEVER KNOW WHEN TO QUIT TALKING!

In preparation for her long tour, the 1956 Maid of Cotton, Patricia Anne Cowden, went to a New York beauty salon to have a facial and learn about using cosmetics so she would look fresh all day. Getting the facial (left), Miss Cowden learns the salon method of applying cold cream, with long upward strokes, starting at the base of the neck and working on to the face. Applying makeup to a clean face (center), Miss Cowden puts on foundation in dots, then blends with fingertips. A touch of face powder and brown eyebrow pencil are added. All-day lipstick (right) goes on last. Lipstick and pressed powder compact go into her handbag for touch-ups which occasionally become necessary when she appears under bright lights.

Housekeeping Aids Are Modernized

Old or New, They're Functional, Save Housework

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A NEW look for favorite housekeeping aids promises easier and swifter housework. What woman isn't interested, especially, in summertime when outdoor recreation beckons?

Look what's happened to that old standby, the chamois. Newly developed chamois leather, specially tanned in oil, increases the soft, supple feel of the skins and adds to their moisture-retaining qualities.

Because the chamois puts a high gloss on glass or wood surfaces, you can wipe down mirrors, whisk the dust off furniture and give the picture window a onceover without carrying an assortment of special aids.

I adopt the open-window policy during nice weather and a daily dusting of almost every surface is a "must."

You can also use a chamois with ordinary soap or detergents to wash glass or mirrored surfaces without suffering troublesome streaks and linting. (Better watch out, though, or dad will appropriate the chamois for the car.)

This new-type chamois carries a seal certifying that it meets "U.S. Government specifications."

BOILED FOODS are in high favor during the summer, but cleaning up the broiler still rates as one of the least desirable jobs with most of us.

Oil-tanned chamois adds a smooth touch to housekeeping routines. It's said to give wood and glass a high gloss.

Aiming to take this messy chore out of our hands is a disposable broiler. Heavy-gauge aluminum foil, stamped out with high sides and deep ridges to keep food out of the grease, is all ready to slide into oven, broiler or rotisserie. This time-and-work-saving device, by the way, was developed by a man who didn't like to clean up broiler pans.

THE INDISPENSABLE bucket has taken on a new look, too, which adds to its usefulness and versatility. A handsome new one, molded in pliable (but not too squishy to hold its shape) plastic has a rigid steel frame around the top and a plastic cover that fits snugly.

It's rectangular in shape and can be used with sponge mops for soap-and-water chores.

Light in weight and easily cleaned up, it also makes a fine picnic hamper and soft-drink cooler. Mine is turquoise, which looks considerably more stylish at a picnic outing than the old bucket we used to use. It also fits more compactly into a car trunk.

After use, it's a quick and simple matter to wash out the interior because sides and bottom are smooth and rounded.

THE HOMELY CLOTHESPIN, scarcely ever out of action on summer washdays, has appeared in a new version designed to speed the pin-up problems. Eighteen clips are strung on a thin line which runs above, and parallel to, the clothesline. These are ready to be spaced out to fasten the clothes without the need to bend and reach or hunt for elusive pins.

ANOTHER BRAND-NEW aid can hardly wait to try is an automatic overcaster attachment for the straight-needle sewing machine. If you've ever spent as much time as I in trying to seam up frayed or sheer, ravelly fabrics, the news that an attachment has been developed that will lock-stitch raw edges together professionally is good indeed.

A flattened scroll foot holds the raw edges vertically as the overcasting is done. It should be available now in sewing departments and centers.
